DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-13, drawn to a block having a support block welded to nozzle housing, classified in class 175, subclass 340.
 - II. Claims 14-16, drawn to a method of making a support block having a spray nozzle, classified in class 299, subclass 81.3.
 - III. Claims 17-19, drawn to nozzle housing, classified in class 175, subclass 424.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group II and Group I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case an apparatus such as a rock bit can be made with a head (support block) welded to a flow tube (nozzle housing) precluding the requirement of a spray nozzle. In the alternative, the process as claimed can make a spray device wherein the support block is fastened through screws to the nozzle housing precluding the step of welding.
3. Inventions Group I and Group III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination does not require a nozzle housing wherein the bottom surface has an elongated recess chamber. The subcombination has separate utility such as holder for a mining pick.

4. Inventions II and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be practice by a method such as casting a cylindrical housing, drilling out the center to create a bore and chiseling out the bottom to create a recess.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Sunil Singh whose telephone number is (703) 308-4024. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday 8:30 AM - 5:00 PM.
